

LATIN ROOTS UNIT 7: INTER,RE, VAC

INTER

The prefix "inter" means between or among interloper	person who becomes involved in a place/ situation where they are not wanted intersperse	scatter among or between other things; place here and there interject	say (something) abruptly; especially as an aside or interruption intercede	intervene on behalf of another interim	in for a brief or temporary period of time interdict	to intercept and/or prevent something interpose	place or insert between one thing and another.

internecine	relating to conflict within a group or organization

RE

The Latin prefix "re" means back or again irrefutable	impossible to deny or disprove reprehensible	deserving condemnation requisite	a thing that is necessary for the achievement of a specified end rejuvenate	to restore to youth recant	to reject a belief or statement previously made remonstrate	to say or plead in protest or disapproval repute	the state of being highly thought of; fame refrain	to stop oneself from doing something

VAC

The Latin roots "vac" means empty vacancy	an unoccupied position or job.

vacation	an extended period away from work evacuate	remove (someone) from a place of danger to a safe place vacuum	a space entirely devoid of matter vacuous	having or showing a lack of thought or intelligence; mindless vacantly	showing no mental activity vacate	to leave a place that was previously occupied vacuole	a small cavity or space in tissue